JOHN SHERMAN'S

Last Circular - One More Chance for the Treasury Secretary's Friends, the Bloated Bondholders.

St. Louis Times: It would be well for that portion of the public who are interested the patriotism and public spirit of John She man to mark the intricacies of his recent cir-cular, in which he offers the four per cent bonds for sale in amounts of fifty, one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars.

The offer will bear accurate scanning. I will be observed that the circular follows hard upon the adjournment of congress. The watch dogs are out of the way. The secretary of the treasury sees the necessity of hurrying things immediately on the opening of his opportunity. He offers one-fourth of one per cent. commission on the amounts named, but the commission will be paid by check its issue shows an intention on the part of Sherman to take advantage of the adjournment of congress to press a piece of business out of which he and his pals are to line their pockets with all the cash that can be laid hold of before the next meeting of that hated house of representatives, which will yet be educated to the necessity of listening to the demands of the people to pay retiring bonds in greenbacks instead of other non-taxable, interest-bearing bonds. Sherman is in sympathy with that noble army of freemen who have their wallets stuffed with evidences of government indebtedness, and go about snap-ing their jeweled fingers at the tax-collector.

BERNARD'S FIGHT.

San Francisco, June 28 .- A Silver City lispatch says that in the recent attack of sernard's command upon the hostiles the later had one thousand five hundred warriors. The Indians were not aware of the presence of the soldiers, and their stock was unguarded. Bernard addressed his command, inothers delivered short addresses. Quite a large number of ladies attended the barforming them that they were close upon the enemy and could whip them. He charged them not to retreat, if they did they would be shot, and they might as well die by shots fired by the savages as by our men. The soldiers went silently forward and attacked the savage force three times. When within five hundred yards of the enemy order was given to charge. M'Gregor's company was near by, and they charged also. The savages fled in dismay, and large numbers of them were killed. An encounter took place between concealed weapons, jury and verdict of not Bear-Skin, a Bannock chief, and Sergeant Richmond, of M'Gregor's company. The sergeant finally killed his man. Between one and two o'clock on the morning of the twenty-fourth the hostiles were compelled to re-treat. They were pursued by Bernard ten miles. Generals Howard, Downy and Miles subsequently arrived on the ground; also Bendere's company. All are anxious for a fight. The body of one soldier captured y the Indians was cut up and burned. The Indian camp was destroyed by the troops. Many hostiles were wounded. Captain Perry's company, as well as all the other troops engaged, are reported to have done well. neasures of great importance which came before the session of congress just closed, was the passage of the Barataria canal bill, and the introduction of Captain John Cowdon's bill and memorial for the improvement of the navigation of the Mississippi river, and the reclamation of the lowlands. The former was introduced by Senator Harris and the latter by Senator Lamar, and both ordered to be printed. The bill is carefully drawn and embraces the whole question fully. The main feature is, that for the sum of ten million dollars, to be paid by the United States government as the work progresses, the navigation of the river shall be kept permanently open and the low and overflowed lands reclaimed. The great amount of work to be done, at first glance not only appears herculean, but impossible for the sum named. However, careful study of the provisions of the bill and memorial, and tracing out the work specified, will induce an idea of the simplicity and practibility of the proposed plan and its great superiority, in every way, over the levee and jetty system, which is esti-mated to cost about ninety-six million dollars. The whole plan, when properly explained, induces the remark, as it did from Mr. Hewitt, of New York, "Why has not this plan been approval of such men as Speaker Randall, Governor Eden, of Illinois; Senator Mathews, General together, add one cup of New Orleans mo-Atkins, Mr. Reagan, Mr. Knapp, Senatora lasses; stir into this one cup each of sugar Bailey and Lamar, and many other members | and cold water, two large teaspoonfuls of side Madison street, east of bayou.
